Green Roof to Cover Hillview Reservoir - Meeting Tonight!

to be built over the Hillview Reservoir in Yonkers, which is a New York City-owned property and supplies its residents with water.

Environmental officials say the $1.6 billion New York City funded project will help protect the new concrete from sun damage and soak up rainwater before it clogs sewers. It also protects the water from outdoor elements.

Construction is expected to start in 2011 and finish five years later. The project would be the largest in the world, surpassing Chicago's 24.5-acre cover for Millennium Park.

The public is encouraged to attend a two-part meeting tomorrow, Wednesday, July 16 at 6:30 p.m. at Mark Twain Junior High School's auditorium, 160 Woodlawn Ave.

First will be an informal presentation of NYCDEP's program at Hillview Reservoir, with an opportunity for question and answer. The second part will be the formal public meeting starting at 8 p.m. to receive oral and written comments on the Draft Scope of Analysis.

Written comments on the Draft Scope of Analysis will be accepted until August 8, 2008, and a Final Scope of Analysis, incorporating changes based on relevant comments received, will be issued September 12, 2008. Responses to comments given during the formal meeting and written comments received will be provided as part of the Final Scope of Analysis.

Submit written comments on the Draft Scope of Analysis to: Ruby Wells, Project Manager, Office of Water Supply Infrastructure and Watershed Assessment, New York City Department of Environmental Protection, Bureau of Environmental Planning and Analysis, 59-17 Junction Boulevard, 11th Floor, Flushing, NY 11373.

Editor's Clarification

In our July 10 eblast story, entitled "Seeing is Believing," the sentence below should have included the words Alexander Street in reference to waterfront proposals.

Here's the story again: Exciting initiatives are being planned on Alexander Street along the Hudson River between the Yonkers and Glenwood Metro-North Stations.

After reviewing the initial Draft Generic Environmental Impact Statement (DGEIS), the Community Development

Agency (CDA), of which I am Vice-Chair, has requested that the Environmental Simulation Center (ESC) create a computer simulated model to show what the various Alexander Street proposals on the waterfront would look like.

The presentation will be unveiled at the next CDA meeting at 4 p.m. on July 23 here at City Hall on the 4th floor.

The meeting will also be televised on Channel 78 for those of you who can't make the meeting. I encourage everyone to watch to get an accurate picture of what the downtown could look like.

Eat Your Veggies

Don't forget the St. John's Getty Square Farmer's Market is every Thursday from 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. through November.

Besides all the great vendor items for sale such as soaps, clothing and jewelry, look for the farm fresh produce and baked goods for sale in the back parking lot.

I will also be holding constituent hours from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the market every week so come on by to say hi.

Rolling on the River

The Hudson River Community Association of Northwest Yonkers, a group of civic-minded activists who formed a Yonkers response team 30 years ago, is doing yet another good deed by holding a high school scholarship fundraiser aboard a boat to Haverstraw on Monday, July 28.

Light refreshments will be served and a cash bar will be provided. You are welcome to bring a picnic basket (NO ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES OR GLASS ALLOWED.) Reservations are mandatory.

Calling All Kayakers and Swimmers

The Hudson River Swim For Life needs kayak buddies to travel alongside and spot swimmers who are participating in the September 7 swim event.

The 3.1 mile swim is from Sleepy Hollow to Nyack. This year there will also be a 1-mile swim option along the shores of Sleepy Hollow. Swimmers will conquer the river in the shadow of the Tappan Zee Bridge, as kayakers and boaters assist them for safety.

Last year, 250 swimmers raised just over $200,000. This year they are expecting more than 450 participants and an audience of about 4,000.

The event was created to raise awareness of the Hudson River, promote swimming as a life-long form of fitness, and raise funds for the ongoing work of The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, in conjunction with Friends of Claire, a non-profit raising funds for ALS.

Well now you have the chance! Join Beczak Environmental Education Center and the Yonkers Paddling and Rowing Club from 5-8 p.m. on Saturday, July 19 at Beczak, 35 Alexander St., Yonkers.

Get ready to wear waders while dragging a 30-foot seine net through the river for a show and tell catch and release of aquatic life. Or you can paddle up with a kayak. ### Water as Art

One of the most anticipated outdoor art exhibitions has finally come to New York City's waterways.

The Ola fur Eliasson

Waterfalls will be on display throughout the city until October 13. The four waterfalls are at Pier 35, the Brooklyn Bridge, between piers 4 and 5 in Brooklyn and on Governors Island. The water creations flow from 7a.m. to 10 p.m. and stay lit until after dark.

There are many ways to see the waterfalls, both from land and water. There are free and discounted boat trips from Pier 16 in Manhattan and the Staten Island and Governor Island Ferries. All allow for great viewing of the 90 to 120 foot waterfalls.

If you are a highly experienced to expert level kayaker and wish to view the waterfalls on August 2, contact Jerry Blackstone from the Yonkers Paddling and Rowing Club at (914)318-4630. Interested in learning how to kayak in general? Free classes are offered at JFK Marina on Thursday, Friday and Monday nights from 6 - 8 p.m. Call Jerry to confirm times and dates.
